

FUN ON EARTH (THE SHORT): SYNOPSIS

On an average American college campus, an average American boy (Sterling Jones) meets a girl (Alexi Wasser) who is anything but. Strangely though, they get along. Everything goes as well as can be expected until the girl's face melts off in the library bathroom. When she tells him she's from another planet, at first he doesn't believe her. But when he sees how much she needs him to, things start to change. Could it be that they are each exactly what the other is looking for?
